This morning the sun has come up and with the dawn of a new day we look at downtown Klamath Falls and see no remnants of last night's activities. Yesterday many of our friends and neighbors, as well as out of town "guests", came out to express various points of view and exercise the freedoms that make our country the greatest in the world. While there were times last night when words got heated and tensions rose there was largely peaceful expression in Klamath Falls. I could not be more proud of our citizens and our brave law enforcement officers who helped keep the peace last night. - Chris Kaber, Klamath County Sheriff
